

Biography – A (Patchogue, NY)

Ackerly, Clifford B., 1851-1899

- “Death of Clifford B. Ackerly” [obit.]. Patchogue Advance, October 13, 1899: p. 1.

Ackerly, George Mitchell, ca. 1845-1905 [founder and owner, largest piano and musical instruments store on L.I., short of Brooklyn; twice housed the Patchogue Library]

- “Ackerly, George Mitchell.” In Suffolk County Historical Society. Register, December 2, 1986: p. 2.
- [Obit.]. Patchogue Advance, November 24, 1905: [n.p.]

Ackerly, Jerome W., b. 1874

- “Famed as a Piano Dealer: Jerome Ackerly Reaches 75.” Patchogue Advance, October 27, 1949: [n.p.]

Agostinello, Jimmy, 1963-1985 [22 year old medical student, killed in a car crash]

- “A Walk in Patchogue to Keep a Memory Alive.” Newsday, July 22, 1985: p. 6.

Alevas, Renee [fled Nazi Germany; Patchogue became home; 1983 L.I. Advance Woman of the Year]

- Molloy, Kevin. “Renee Alevas: Working to Improve Her Home.” Long Island Advance, January 13, 1994: pp. 1, 3.

Allen, Jennie Smith, 1880-1990 [daughter of Gil Smith & Meriam Terry Smith]

- “Jennie Smith Allen.” The Dolphin, September 15, 1990: p. 5.

Allen, Joel Nott, 1866-1940 [artist]

- “Joel Nott Allen: Portrait Painter’s Art in Many Collections – Dies at 74.” New York Times, March 12, 1940: p. 23A.

Andrisani, Paul, 1954- [building design manager, architect, ham radio operator, hemophiliac]

- Perlman, Shirley E. “Caring is the Best Transfusion.” Newsday, March 19, 1986: S21.

Andrisani, Pat & Gwen Rose Andrisani [WW II European Theater veterans; he was with

- George Patton’s 3rd Army; she was based in England]
- “Keep Trans-Atlantic Date by Radio; Altar Bound.” [2 captioned photos] [no source]
- “Romantic Hook-Up; How Much Longer?; Andrisani Wins Gifts; and Telegram” [no attributions]

- State of New York Legislative Resolution Congratulating Mr. And Mrs. Patsy Andrisani Upon the Occasion of Their 50th Wedding Anniversary [February 10, 1997]
- “In the Speedy ‘Life’ Style We Face Everyday,” by Pat Andrisani

Antonini, Lorna Rothney [dance teacher, Antonini Studio]

- “Lorna Dances into History.” Main Street Press, March 14, 1985: pp. 1, 3.

Antonini, Mario, 1909-1987 [dance teacher, Antonini Studio]

- Breuer, Howard. “Antonini Bids Adieu to Historic Studio.” Long Island Advance, January 23, 1986: pp. 6, 8.
- Mario Antonini, Dance Teacher, Dies at Age 78.” [no source]
- “Patchogue Landmark Fading – Antonini Showplace to Give Way to Widening Sunrise Highway.” Main Street Press, January 16, 1986: p. 4.

Ashare, Martin Bradley

- “County Attorney Goes on Record.” Long Island Advance, December 13, 1984: pp. 2, 24.
- Cozine, Nancy. “Who’s Who Among Your Neighbors.” Long Island Advance, February 2, 1984: 2A.
- “A County Attorney’s Retrospective” (Viewpoints). Long Island Business News, January 25, 1988: p. 31.
- Lueck, Thomas J. “Suffolk Lawyer Seized in Theft from County (Metro Section; Long Island).” New York Times, October 30, 1992: B6.
- Tayler, Letta. “$50,000 Theft Charge: Ex-Suffolk County Attorney Ashare Arraigned.” Newsday, October 30, 1992: p. 8.
- Wasserman, Elizabeth. “Ashare Arraigned in Theft of Funds: Ex-County Attorney: I’m Not Guilty.” Newsday, December 23, 1992: p. 23.
- Wasserman, Elizabeth. “Ex-County Attorney Sentenced: Ashare Faces ‘Disgrace, Shame’ – and Disbarment – in $50G Theft.” Newsday, May 12, 1993: p. 23.

Augustine, John

- Cozine, Nancy. “Who’s Who Among Your Neighbors.” Long Island Advance, August 23, 1983: p. 3A.
- LaMonica, Barbara. “A Familiar Face in Patchogue Village” (Profile). Long Island Advance, July 16, 1987: pp. 17, 39.

Austin, Herbert F., Jr., 1912-1978 [inventor, WW II commander LST-942, which first landed U.S. security forces in Hiroshima]

- “Herbert F. Austin, Jr., Dead: Was a Well-Known Inventor” (Formerly of Patchogue). Long Island Advance, November 16, 1978: [n.p.]

Avery Family

- “The Christopher Avery Family Line”; “Avery Family Homestead” (Greater Patchogue Historical Society...Historical House Tour [brochure]...Sunday, May 7, 2000.
- Silberfarb, Edward J. “A Proud Family with Link to the Past...In a Village with an Eye on History.” New York Herald Tribune, September 15, 1963: [n.p.]

Avery, Charles W., 1854-1889

- “Charles W. Avery.” In Portrait and Biographical Record of Suffolk County, Long Island, New York.... New York: Chapman Publishing Co., 1896: [n.p.]

Avery, Humphrey Roger, 1895-1983

- “Humphrey Avery Dies at 88; Swan River Nursery Owner.” Long Island Advance, May 5, 1983: p. 32A. “Humphrey Avery, Landscape Architect” (Obituaries). Newsday, May 6, 1983: p. 33.
- “Plaques Trace Avery Tract History.” Patchogue Advance, February 5, 1976: [n.p.]
- Silberfarb, Edward J. “A Proud Family with Link to the Past...In a Village with an Eye on History.” New York Herald Tribune, September 15, 1963: [n.p.]
- “Town CD Director Lists Ways Leading to a Better Tomorrow.” Long Island Advance, January 4, 1968: [n.p.] -- Humphrey Avery then served as Brookhaven Town Civil Defense [CD] Director