1897

- “Patchogue Sorosis. – The ladies of Patchogue have organized a Sorosis Circle. Mrs. Wilmot [Elizabeth] M. Smith is President. They are to have a club room, an auditorium, one-a-week teas, a monthly gentleman’s reception, cards, dancing, lectures, etc. Patchogue is Progressive.” The Corrector, December 11, 1897: p. 2.

1898

- “The Patchogue Sorosis entertained a number of men friends Monday night, it being the second of the series of men’s nights.” Brooklyn Daily Eagle, April 1, 1898: p. 1.

• “The members of the Patchogue Sorosis, of which Mrs. Wilmot M. Smith is at the head, is arranging to give an amateur circus in that village on Aug. 5. Ben B. Vernon is master of ceremonies, and his previous success with amateurs is a guarantee that the circus will ‘carry the town.’ It is not impossible that our Patchogue friends will come over the hills with it, and should they do so they will receive a warm welcome by their North Side friends.” Port Jefferson Echo, July 23, 1898: p. 3.

• “Patchogue, L.I., August 5—To-night the Sorosis will give its Burlesque Circus at the grounds of Mrs. Kate L. Gilbert. There will be every attraction of the usual country circus, from the clown up to the Jumbo elephant. Most of those who will take part are local talent, though there are several from Brooklyn and Manhattan on the programme. Accommodation for one thousand.” Brooklyn Daily Eagle, August 5, 1898: p. 4.

• “Latest Long Island News, Patchogue’s Sorosis Gives a Burlesque Circus at the Gilbert Summer Home. Society Women Participate in a Street Parade and then Give an Amusing Show Under a Tent to the Biggest Audience Ever Got Together in the Village—All the Features of the Circus Reproduced to the Life.” Brooklyn Daily Eagle, August 6, 1898: p. 4.

• “The annual meeting and election of officers of the Patchogue Sorosis was held on Tuesday evening. The election resulted as follows: Mrs. Wilmot M. Smith, president; Mrs. L.S. Edwards, and Mrs. T. L. Roe, vice presidents; Miss Lila Conklin, treasurer; Miss M.E. Brundage, recording secretary; Miss Luella Newins, corresponding secretary.” Suffolk County News, December 9, 1898: p. 4.

• “Patchogue Sorosis.” Brooklyn Daily Eagle, January 31, 1899: p. 7. Formal debate over whether the teacher’s or mother’s influence over the child is greater.

• “Patchogue Sorosis.” Brooklyn Daily Eagle, February 7, 1899: p. 7. – Lecture: “Poetry as a Source of Pleasure and Culture”, by Rev. Dr. Pullman of the M.E. Church

• “Patchogue Sorosis.” Brooklyn Daily Eagle, March 14, 1899: p. 7. – Planning a benefit entertainment for a local blind child and delivery of several papers on “Actresses Who have Become Peeresses”

• “Beautiful and Thriving Patchogue.” Brooklyn Daily Eagle, April 16, 1899: p. 23. – Among other things, John Potter mentioned that, “During the past year there has been great improvement in real estate in Patchogue. Since the brick-pavement was laid on Main Street and Ocean Avenue, the Patchogue Investment Company has erected a fine brick building [the Syndicate building, N. side of W. Main St, not far from the 4 Corners] and has rented most of the stores on the first floor and a number of offices on the second. Judge Wilmot M. Smith has his court room in this building and the Patchogue Sorosis has a fine club room on the second floor. The Argus [newspaper] office occupies a portion of the third floor.”
“The Patchogue Sorosis will give an entertainment on Friday evening, entitled, ‘The District School’ for the benefit of the 12 year old son of Marcellus V. Roe, who has recently become totally blind.”
Suffolk County News, April 21, 1899: p. 2.

“The Long Island Council of Women’s Clubs met at Patchogue on Tuesday. There were between 450 and 500 delegates representing 25 Brooklyn clubs and about as many from villages in other parts of the Island. Mrs. Wilmot M. Smith, President of the Patchogue Sorosis was Chairman of the Council.” The Corrector, May 27, 1899: p. 2.

“Patchogue, the Mecca of conventions, was visited on Tuesday last by the Council of the Long Island Federation of Women’s Clubs. A Special train of seven cars conveyed the visitors from Brooklyn to the place of meeting. The Congregational Church was headquarters. At the opening session District Attorney [Walter] Jaycox delivered an address of welcome. Mrs. Wilmot M. Smith, president of the Patchogue Sorosis, then tendered a hearty welcome to the visitors. After an address in response by Marianna W. Chapma, of Brooklyn, the delegates adjourned to the club room of the Patchogue Sorosis, where lunch was served. The business session began at 2 o’clock in the Congregational Church, ad was followed by ten-minute papers on ‘Philanthropic Economics,’ by Dr. Alice Cole Campbell; ‘Scientific Economics,’ Dr. Lucy Hall Brown; ‘Home Education,’ Mrs. Franklin H. Hooper; ‘Relation of the Franchise to Education,’ Mrs. Mary E. Craigie; ‘Library Work,’ Mrs. Charles Mason Fairbanks (read by Mrs. Cornell); ‘The Value of Federation,’ Mrs. Charles B. Bartram; Miss Lida Frank Price rendered several solos.” Long-Islander, May 27, 1899: p. 4.

“Wednesday evening the second annual reception, by Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Weeks, to the Patchogue Sorosis, was held at the Ocean Avenue Hotel. There was a large number present, and a most pleasant evening was spent. Dancing and card playing were the features.” Brooklyn Daily Eagle, July 2, 1899: p. 24.

“A Sorosis Vaudeville.” Brooklyn Daily Eagle, July 19, 1899: p. 7. – “In Brightest America,” was presented at the Lyceum (article lists the cast)

“Theatricals by Sorosis. Patchogue Amateurs Produce a Musical Melange Coached by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dixie. Dewey One of the Characters; Mrs. Wilmot M. Smith and Other South Side Enthusiasts Score a Brilliant Success.” Brooklyn Daily Eagle, July 30, 1899: p. 34.

“The Patchogue Sorosis is one of the most popular clubs on the Island at present, that fact being largely due to the excellent impression made both by the club and its charming president, Mrs. Wilmot M. Smith, on the occasion of its entertaining the Long Island Council in the spring Sorosos has already resumed its fall work, meeting every Monday evening for a literary programme, and on Wednesday afternoons socially. The plan of work for the winter has not yet been definitely decided on.” Brooklyn Daily Eagle, September 26, 1899: p. 7.

“…Patchogue Sorosis opened the hall last week. To-morrow evening it will have a meeting with a programme prepared under the direction of Mrs. Vunk< Miss Mary Bailey, and Miss Luella Norris.” Brooklyn Daily Eagle, October 1, 1899: p. 44.
“Patchogue Sorosis had its first ‘men’s night’ on Monday evening and it was a decided success, proving that the plan to have a similar night once a month is a good one and likely to be very popular. The entertainment committee is preparing a programme for Monday evening’s session.” Brooklyn Daily Eagle, October 15, 1899: p. 40.

“The Patchogue Sorosis dispensed with its usual programme on Monday evening, most of the members going to the Lyceum to hear a concert given by Miss Anna Parks, the woman cornetist, and her talented sisters. The entertainment committee has chosen a timely and interesting topic for tomorrow’s meeting, namely ‘The Transvaal.’ The subject will be handled from several standpoints and in view of existing conditions cannot fail to be both instructive and interesting.” Brooklyn Daily Eagle, October 22, 1899: p. 40. – The 2nd Boer War, 1899-1902, was then raging in South Africa.

“The Patchogue Sorosis proposes, if possible, to have the Patchogue Library Association transfer all of its interests in the present library to the Sorosis, who will then add a number of new books and open a library room in the store at the northeast corner of the [John Roe] Smith Block on Main Street. Sorosis also proposes to open a free reading room, and keep it open every day in the week, except Sunday. A librarian will be selected, probably from among the Sorosis members, and it is understood that Miss Lila Conklin will fill that position [which she did not, Marian Brundage filling that post]. It will be opposite the post office and the Sorosis Club rooms. Mrs. Wilmot M. Smith is actively engaged in the work of preparation and it is anticipated before many months to have the library open to the public. The [Patchogue] Library Association at its recent meeting elected [NYS] Supreme Court Justice Wilmot M. Smith president and these officers: Vice president, Walter L. Suydam; secretary, John Potter; treasurer, [Nelson] McBride; executive committee, Dr. Q.[i.e. Wellington] E. Gordon, Miss M[ary]. H. Deery, and Edwin Bailey, [Sr.]; trustees, Jesse C. Mills, Fremont Hammond and Joseph Bailey [son of Edwin].” Suffolk County News, October 27, 1899: p. 3.

“Patchogue Sorosis had a Transvaal night last Monday. Papers were read by Mrs. Overton, Miss Sharp, Miss Brundage and Miss Eaton and a general discussion followed. Sorosis is preparing to take up a line of work in which several of the long Island clubs are interested, namely, the establishment and care of a village library. Good work is being done along this line by club women at Hempstead, Westbury, Sea Cliff and Richmond Hill.” Brooklyn Daily Eagle, October 28, 1899: p. 3.

“Sorosis Takes the Library. Patchogue, L.I. October 30 – The trustees of the Patchogue Library Association have practically agreed to turn over to the management of the Sorosis all the books in the present so-called library. The Sorosis proposes to manage the library the first year, after which it will be placed under the statet regents. An office at the corner of the Smith block on Main Streethas been rented and the library and reading room will be opened as soon as convenient.” Brooklyn Daily Eagle, October 30, 1899: p. 7.

“Patchogue Sorosis gave its second ‘Transvaal’ night last Monday, and it was quite as successful as the first. The society is fairly launched on its career as patron of the public library, and the experiment will be watched with interest by members of other clubs which have hopes and ambitions along this line.” Brooklyn Daily Eagle, November 5, 1899: p. 39.

“…Patchogue Sorosis had a business meeting last Monday evening and appointed a chairman and a treasurer for the library fund. Miss Marion Brundage will have charge of the library, and its affairs will be directed by an executive committee, appointed from among the club’s members. The second ‘men’s night’ entertainment will take place Monday evening. There will be cards, dancing and music and other special features.”  Brooklyn Daily Eagle, November 12, 1899: p. 12.

- “There have been several important club gatherings this week. Patchogue Sorosis opened the ball with its ‘men’s night’ on Monday evening. The programme was of dramatic and musical events. There were cards for the older folks, and dancing for the young people and quite a crowd gathered.”  Brooklyn Daily Eagle, November 19, 1899: p. 35.

- “Patchogue Sorosis met on Monday evening for a business meeting, followed by a musicale. Sorosis, which is now nearly three years old, is considering the question of adopting a new constitution and bylaws and these came up for consideration. Matter have worked very smoothly under the old laws, but a these were drawn when the club was in its infancy, and when there was nothing certain concerning its ultimate development, it was felt that the present condition of things required more comprehensive treatment and the new constitution has been prepared with that end in view.”  Brooklyn Daily Eagle, December 3, 1899: p. 6.

- “Patchogue Sorosis’ Election.”  Brooklyn Daily Eagle, December 17, 1899: p. 12. -- Elizabeth Mott (Mrs. Wilmot M.) Smith, re-elected President; Mrs. L.S. Edwards, 1st Vice President; Miss Susie Sharp, 2nd V.P.; Miss M. Edith Brundage, Secretary; Miss Lila Conklin, Treasurer; Miss Luella Newins, Corresponding Secretary. “The public library just opened under its auspices promises to be one of the best enterprises ever launched in the village.”

- “Patchogue Sorosis gave a concert on Monday evening for a charitable object. There was a fairly large attendance and an excellent programme was rendered. Cards, dancing and refreshments followed the programme. Sorosis has several important events on hand, one of which is an entertainment to be given for the benefit of the Free Library on January 24 and another which is to be ‘A Carnival of Nations,’ early in February. Monday night’s literary meeting of Sorosis will consist of a review, criticism and discussion, ‘The Man with the Hoe.’”  Brooklyn Daily Eagle, January 14, 1900: p. 11.

- “Patchogue Sorosis has been busy this week. On Monday evening the review and criticism of ‘The Man with the Hoe,’ and its author, was continued. There were several papers and much animated discussion. On Wednesday evening the entertainment given under Sorosis patronage for the benefit of the Free Library took place. It was a great success, both socially and financially. Many of the members personally took part in the programme and all worked hard to bring about the pleasing results obtained.”  Brooklyn Daily Eagle, January 28, 1900: p. 39.

- “The Misses Mary and Bertha Bailey gave a progressive euchre to their friends in the club room of Patchogue Sorosis last evening.”  Suffolk County News, February 9, 1900: p. 3.

- “Patchogue Sorosis Had its ‘men’s night’ on Monday evening. A fine musical programme by local talent was presented. Following this, refreshments were served and cards and dancing filled up the balance of the evening.”  Brooklyn Daily Eagle, February 18, 1900: p. 3.

- “Mrs. Cynthia Westover Alden of Brooklyn, president general of the International Sunshine Society, will address the Patchogue Sorosis next Monday evening.” Suffolk County News, October 4, 1901: p. 2.
- “Mrs. [Elizabeth Mott] Smith, wife of Judge Wilmot M. Smith, who has been President of the Patchogue Sorosis ever since its inception, now some five years, has resigned the position. Forty-seven of its sixty-five members (fifteen being out of town) signed a petition for her to remain as the presiding officer, but she declined, stating that she considered it her imperative duty, after so long a service, to give way in favor of others who were equally competent to administer its affairs.” Sag-Harbor Express, October 31, 1901: p. 3.

- “A spirited horse owned by ex-Roundsman John Permento, a retired Brooklyn policeman, living here [Sayville, NY], took fright at a large boiler near the Patchogue lace mills, on Monday, and ran away. Mr. Permento’s wife, who was driving, was accompanied by her cousin, Miss Brady, and when the horse started to run, they both screamed, but Mrs. Permento pluckily strove to keep the frightened animal in the road. The carriage was upset and both women thrown violently to the ground. Miss Brady sustained a compound fracture of one leg, several bad cuts and contusions, and other injuries, which will necessitate her remaining in bed for several months. Mrs. Permento also received bad cuts and bruises, and it is feared she suffered internal injuries. Dr. L.S. Edwards worked for several hours to restore the women to comparative comfort, and they are both improving, but seriously hurt. Mrs. Permento is a popular member of Sorosis, a Patchogue women’s club.” Suffolk County News, November 21, 1902: p. 2.

1903

- “Patchogue Sorosis will be represented at the Federation of Women’s Clubs at Huntington, May 23, by their former president, Mrs. Wilmot M. Smith, and the present president, Mrs. R.A. Porter. Mrs. W.S. Bennett and Mrs. Jacob Probst are the alternates.” Suffolk County News, May 15, 1903: p. 1.

“Mrs. Frank A. Potter, wife of the cashier of the Patchogue Bank, has been appointed a member of the Patchogue Board of Education to serve until August 5, 1919, the vacancy being caused by the resignation of County Judge George H. Furman from the board some weeks ago. Mrs. W[illis]. A. Reeve and Mrs. Winfield S. Bennett appeared at the meeting of the board, representing Patchogue Sorosis, and asked that the women be represented on the Board of Education, which resulted in Mrs. Potter’s appointment.” Suffolk County News, January 24, 1919: p. 3.

“At a meeting of the Educational Department of Patchogue Sorosis club, Major Fred Engelhardt, assistant to Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, Deputy Commissioner of Education, gave a splendid talk upon the present school conditions in New York State, the urgent need for reconstruction in taxation, curriculum and general community program; to tie up the training of coming citizens with the present citizens in each department of educational work. He emphasized very strongly the necessity for a deeper, keener interest in the education in and out of school of the coming generations and the ‘stranger within our gates.’ He prophesied that unless we awake to these conditions we will have a problem on our hands such as is rending Europe today. Dr. Finegan paid a high compliment to the work of the women and said he could not understand why their services were not more generally used on school boards and in superintending school work. He is a strong advocate of the Boy and Girl Scout movement. He finds it the most useful for real community spirit and urges the older men and women to seriously consider the leadership in these organizations’ work in their respective localities. He says, ‘There is no higher joy in life than to make comrades and companions of our boys and girls. Learn to play with them. You will grow younger and they will grow wiser and more helpful to themselves and to you.’” The County Review, April 11, 1919: p. 2.
